

Sarah D. Zandi is an associate in Lieff Cabraser's San Francisco office. She represents workers and consumers in antitrust, consumer protection, and data privacy class action litigation and represents the Attorney General of California in its litigation against the fossil fuel companies over climate change. Outside the firm, Sarah contributes to the California Class Actions and Coordinated Proceedings treatise, has served as the two-time Co-Chair of the Committee to Support the Antitrust Laws (COSAL)'s Young Lawyer's Division, and previously participated in the Sedona Conference's Brainstorming Group on the Sufficiency of Rule 26(a)(1) Disclosures. She was named a Northern California Rising Star in 2025 and 2026, and was a finalist for the Recorder's 2025 California Legal Awards. Sarah graduated from Stanford Law School in 2021.