

Alex Dahl is General Counsel of Lawyers for Civil Justice (LCJ), a national coalition of corporations, law firms, and defense organizations that advocates for procedural rule reforms. LCJ supports the proposed amendment to Federal Rule of Evidence 702 that would clarify expert admissibility standards and has filed amicus briefs urging courts to conform case law to Rule 702's requirements. Alex's background includes serving as: the Deputy Staff Director and Senior Counsel to the U.S. Senate Judiciary Committee; an Assistant U.S. Attorney in the District of Columbia; and a shareholder in the D.C. office of Brownstein Hyatt Farber Schreck. Alex began his legal career as a law clerk to the Hon. Dee Benson in the U.S. District Court for the District of Utah.
