

Amalfi Parker

Amalfi Parker Elder, Senior Program and Training Specialist, develops and delivers programming, consultation and training for community-based advocates and criminal legal system practitioners, working to enhance their systemic responses to intimate partner violence through Praxis' Institutional Analysis, Blueprint for Safety and Advocacy Learning Center programs. Based in New Orleans, Amalfi supports communities around the country in understanding, identifying, and addressing institutional inequities. Prior to joining Praxis, Amalfi coordinated the adaptation, launch and implementation of the New Orleans Blueprint for Safety, as well as the New Orleans Blueprint's equity assessment of the local disproportionately high arrest rate of Black women for domestic violence crimes. Amalfi first joined the gender-based violence movement as an attorney representing survivors in obtaining protective orders, divorce, and child custody.
