

Focus on the Courtroom

Please remember these rules:

Do not talk to anyone, or let anyone talk to you about the case.

This includes your family and friends. You must not discuss any aspect of the case with anyone until the trial is concluded. Also, do not discuss the case with other jurors until your deliberations begin.

Do not receive or send electronic communications about the case.

This includes texting, emailing, blogging, posting information on social network websites, or using any other electronic communication to discuss, or even mention, this case.

Avoid outside information from the internet or other sources.

Do not seek information about any aspect of the case, including searching on the internet. Avoid news reports—broadcast, print, or internet—relating to this case or issues in this case.

As a juror, you play a critical role in ensuring that all parties receive a fair trial. It is essential that your decisions be based solely on the information you receive in the courtroom.
